

A Dream Wedding Within Your Budget

A sad reality is that challenging economic times means brides today have to tighten their belts, and possibly compromise on their dream wedding. Avianto's dedicated wedding planner, Siann Backhouse is able to still deliver a dream wedding by skilfully cutting down on unnecessary costs, and without compromising on the quality of the event. Siann is known in the industry as the "Wedding Guru" and says: "I am fortunate enough to meet numerous couples coming through to view Avianto for their dream wedding, and in consulting with them I see the world wide phenomenon of a credit crunch has also filtered through to the South African wedding industry."

With this in mind Siann has designed a special offering to combat the recession, which she calls her "Jump Start" Wedding package. "It is cost and time effective, allowing couples access to my experience and knowledge. My aim with this package is to show wedding couples that they can afford their dream wedding - a little compromise on their dates is all it takes!"

Like most venues Avianto offers an off peak discount and every season has its own unique benefits to explore. For example winter weddings, when combined with a venue that can transform itself accordingly for the season, can in fact offer a gorgeous setting and unique cosy ambiance that no summer wedding comes close to. "Winter weddings are gorgeous and many of my brides have opted for an off peak wedding date while still utilising professional suppliers and the venue of their dreams," says Siann. Another off peak date gaining in extreme popularity is smaller and more intimate weddings on Thursday's, Friday's and Sunday's, which can also cost considerably less.
